PARTNERS

AEC has partnered with Greenbacker, a public renewable energy company, to provide firms with capital that will enable them to finance the installation of energy efficiency and energy storage technology.

- Greenbacker created a publicly registered company (Greenbacker Renewable Energy Company "GREC") and received SEC and FINRA approval for a $1.5 billion public offering.
- Greenbacker has assembled an experienced management team to execute its business plan. Combined experience of over $50 Billion in energy infrastructure and related investments.
- AEC's partnership with Greenbacker allows AEC to provide significant, flexible project finance for a variety of energy efficiency and energy storage transactions – to include 'turn-key' white labeled financing products featuring little or no capital required from underlying customers.
